In this event, riders use strong, lightweight bicycles to race on an action-packed course. There are plenty of jumps, bumps and dips.

Here's a table of the minimum and maximum points awarded for each stunt. You also score higher points when you perform a stunt. Originally spelled Frisbie, the Frisbee is now molded from plastic. If something is. We start in Hollywood. With the skateboard the player has to proof his ability by showing reckless manoeuvres in the half pipe. Following, we go to San Francisco. When doing the trend sport foot bag, you need to keep a small ball in the air using all parts of your body except the hands. Next you go down to the beaches of California. During skating you cross an exciting obstacle course. Then it is the turn of the supreme discipline of all beach competitions the surfing. In search of the perfect wave the player glides along the wave with a surfboard. In the next discipline one shows stunts with the BMX bike on a country track. The last event is frisbee and takes place in the beautiful Yosemite. The sponsors to choose from are not invented but they really existed, which for sure hoped for a higher degree of popularity and a better image by financing this game. And how could you do this easier and nicer than in the half pipe. You have a maximum of 90 seconds time to do the most and most spectacular stunts that are possible in this discipline. When doing high jumps the turns are very hard to manage, while doing turns in slow speed is easier.

<http://www.bouwdata.net/evenement/3rd-edition-monster-manual-pdf>

Too long or too short turns lead to a fall, the same happens when trying to turn into the wrong direction. Be careful when you fall off the board 3 times, the game is early over, which will happen often to untrained players as half pipe is really tricky. The aim of the game is to hold a small ball as constantly as possible in the air and to do tricks, which give extra points, for 90 seconds. You can play the ball with the head, knee or foot and the heel, turn and perform lots of funny wrenches. Two additional possibilities to get some points are the low flying seagull, which sometimes flies over the screen and which you can plant a nice hit on; o. And if you jockey the ball over the edge of the screen, it will be thrown back and you get bonus points for the direct catch of this throwin. Especially with several players foot bag is a guarantee for laughs, as the more people will watch and crack silly comments, the less tricks will work. It was never easier to make a fool of oneself. Here the ball can fall to the floor endlessly, this discipline doesnt stop prematurely. With this you have to try to show as many tricks as you can and keep yourself on the board. It is important to have enough speed, otherwise you will get swallowed by the breaker which follows you. The maximum time is 90 seconds and here also after three falls from the board the discipline will end prematurely. On this there are lots of obstacles potholes, garbage, sand heaps and much more which you either have to drive around or jump over. Also in this game the rule applies if you break with the face three times, you need to stop early. You sit on a small BMX and you have to master a showjumping course. On the way there are square timbers, buckets, tyres, stumps and lots of other stuff on the track, which you again have to go round or jump over. Furthermore there are many hills and some jumps which give the player the chance for spectacular and risky show interludes.

The danger while performing the latter two is to have to little drive and to land on the head which instantly ends the game, as with a neck breaking you usually dont drive any more. If you make it to the end of the track, you have to manage to break on a small plateau and to stop there, then you get some more bonus points, depending on how quick you performed the course. Then the counter starts again at zero. Flying Disc is nothing else than throwing and catching a frisbee. You first control the thrower, give him the speed and the angle and the the disc flies through the air. Further back there is a second person which you control after the launch. This second person should catch the arriving frisbee, which is far from easy as you walk slower than the disc flies. You receive points for the distance you reached and for if and how running, standing or during a jump, with or against the flying direction of the disc the disc is caught or not. Every player has three shots, which are summed up. When you wait too long with throwing, a UFO will come flying and kidnap the catcher. But you only see it in the bar above the normal picture. Every discipline has always an adequate sound backdrop with 80s beach pop music. For the means of a Commodore it was the best. To make a choice use your joystick to move the cursor to the desired place and then press FIRE. You can also choose an option by entering the corresponding number. Choose an event by moving the joystick to the corresponding number and press the FIRE button. To return to the main menu, press FIRE. To return to the main menu, press FIRE. Position 1 counts 5 points, position 2 3 points, and position 3 one point, same as in the former games. After adding you get the end result. Another incentive for top performances is of course the world record bookkeeping for every discipline as already mentioned at the beginning. For this just speed up a lot until the crest is almost fully at the left border of the screen it should still be visible a bit. This way you should exactly hit the breaking wave. You need to be logged in to cast a vote. Without having to configure any settings you can start, the disciplines are short and simple, through which the game stays interesting. Its just a classic. Whoever has never played this game, has in my opinion a gap in education, which needs to be filled. For me California Games is the highlight of the Epyx Games Series. This time you compete in hanggliding, jetski, skateboarding, body boarding and snow boarding. This game is a classic. I remember playing this a lot when I was younger. Usually I invited some friends over and we had a tournament going. Because this game like Summer Games and Winter Games offers you a chance to compete in tournaments with your friends. 7 players are the maximum limit, though. You may choose a single event or play them all. Making a tournament both fun and timeconsuming. I must also point out that the graphic is much better than the one portrayed in the screenshots. The resolution got like that because I had to watch the size on them. As for the sound it is what you would expect from a game that was made 14 years ago. California Games II offers 5 different disciplines for you to master; Bodyboarding, Snowboarding, Jet Surfing, Hang Gliding and Skateboarding. Each of them are challenging, but the hardest of them all is the skateboarding. You dont believe me Try it. As for the different disciplines here is a brief introduction. Bodyboarding You must try to barrelroll off the lip of a wave. This is not as easy as it may sounds. A lot of training is involved in making it. Snowboarding Pilot a chopper to the top of the mountain and parachute down onto the snowslopes. This is a threeparted mission. First you must find your way down the top part of the course, then you show off your skills in the Snow Bowl and finally you must complete the lower obstacle course.

Jet Surfing Choose one of four surf jets and drive around the buoys or catch a jump of one of the many ramps. Hang Gliding Basically you throw yourself of a cliff and try to hit three targets in the water with five waterballoons AND of course you must also land the glider afterwards. Skateboarding Go wild with your skateboard in the meanest aqueduct in the world. If you are able to survive this track the first time you play it, then I salute you. This discipline requires A LOT of training. So What are you waiting for. Show us your stuff! California Games 2 is a game full of fun. In it you can choose which sport to play Skating, Surfing, Snowboarding, Gliding, Jet ski. SKATING You are on the ramp which has an end.that sounds weird. Pressing left and right at cool timing you are faster and you have more air. There are tunnels on your way so that makes this thing harder. When you jump on the tunnel you die, when you go into the wall on the side of the tunnel you die. Best time at the end wins. SURFING At the beginning of the surfing you must do tricks so that you collect more points to win, when the wave goes down you are pushed to the beach but to make things harder there are people on your way. If you bump into someone you die. Best score wins.

SNOWBOARDING At the beginning you drive a helicopter to the top of the hill. So you jump from the helicopter and do the downhill snowboarding. When you come to the half of the hill you get to the half pipe where you must collect score. When you get down the hill you are finished. Best score wins. GLIDING You are a woman who has water balloons. When you fall into water you die. Best score wins. JETSKI you are a woman who has a jet ski. You must be on the right track all the time to gain points if you are out of the track you are not collecting any points and time is running out. Pressing enter you are faster. Best score wins.

Recommended for the sport fan as you can play several different and funny game styles offering many challenges over and over. California Games 2 builds on the popularity of the first game with more events to compete in and better graphics and sound. Personally I can't say that I owned CG1 so my first experience with the games was playing this one. The events themselves are diverse skateboarding, downhill snowboarding, boogie boarding, jetski racing and hanggliding. Some are better than others, for instance I became thoroughly addicted to the skateboarding, but could never really get into the jetski event I guess it's all a matter of taste. I recommend the game. Great fun. California home of the sun and many weird kinds of sports. Not being as innovative as the first part California Games 2 still is a nice game featuring 5 types of fun sports Paragliding, Jetski, Skating, Surfing and Snowboarding. All made pretty well although Jetski seems to have a problem on modern computers I didn't really see anything on the water. Got points anyway, so hey. I guess you get the idea of what you do in the disciplines of Skating and Surfing and probably have a rough idea of Snowboarding get downhill without falling too often do some tricks in a halfpipe in the middle of the track Paragliding however is a bit unusual. Do flight manoeuvres for points and drop waterbombs okay. I asked myself why someone would do that as well, but it's a game and one does not have to know everything also you have to take care not to crash into the cliffs or the water watch out for sharks!. Controls for all the disciplines are okay, my joystick however did not work SO great so better play this with your keyboard. The idea is not new and there might be better games picking up most of the disciplines, however it's a nice thing and one of the technically better children of the Games series. Sure worth a try if you like fun sports. How to run this game on modern Windows PC. Contact, done in 0.004 seconds.

Players can select sponsors absent in some versions and compete in events such as skateboarding, footbag, surfing, roller skating, flying disc frisbee and BMX. The surfing event is ranked by judges, which give a score to help the players improve their routine. The Atari 2600 version of California Games, released in the later years of Atari's dominance in the Home Video Game market, was one of a handful of games that used 16K of memory. The Atari 2600 had been designed to only run cartridges of 2K and 4K in size. Memory was still expensive in the 1980s, yet the public wanted more and more advanced games, especially since it had been several years now since the release of the many popular 8-bit home computer systems that had been flooding the market and reducing in cost. And with the Nintendo Entertainment System having just been released, the Atari 2600 was beginning to look very dated.

In order to satisfy the public's craving for games requiring increasing amounts of memory, creating a bigger game for the Atari 2600 was the only way to do it. In order to handle the expansiveness of their games, Epyx released all three of their Olympic-based games with multiple ROM chips equaling the necessary 16K. Using bankswapping, the various ROM chips could be accessed and swapped as needed. And all of it was embedded within a standard-sized Atari 2600 Cartridge! During the flying disc event, if you leave the controls alone for long enough, you will see an alien abducting your partner on the radar, along the top of the screen see screenshots. The switch was masked fairly well by While not as good as EGA, they were definitely much, much better than what CGA could normally produce. While this technique has been used in other games like Jungle Hunt, none did it so well as in California Games. This technique will only work on 4.77MHz machines, as the timing required to change the palette is very exacting. Also, there is no way to capture, with a program, these screenshots; they had to be captured normally, then changing the used colors where the split occurred. They are identical to what's displayed on the screen, however, down to the additional color split in the names at the bottom of the title screen. It may take a couple of tries, but it is possible. Gameplay is slightly slower in this mode whenever more than two players are onscreen at the same time. In all other versions of the game, the wave moves from left to right.
